

23/01/2018

Jour Fixe

18.15 Uhr

Prof. Dr.
Monika Bakke

Of Art and Mineral Life

- is living/nonliving divide obsolete?
- immortality of minerals
- mineral origins of life
- metabolic flow of rocks

Monika Bakke is Associate Professor in the Philosophy Department at the Adam Mickiewicz University, Poznań, Poland. She writes on contemporary art and aesthetics with a particular interest in post-humanist, transspecies and gender perspectives. She is the author of Bio-transfigurations: Art and Aesthetics of Posthumanism (2010, in Polish) and Open Body (2000, in Polish) co-author of Pleroma: Art in Search of Fullness (1998), and editor of Australian Aboriginal Aesthetics (2004, in Polish), Going Aerial: Air, Art, Architecture (2006) and The Life of Air: Dwelling, Communicating, Manipulating (2011). From 2001 till 2017 she was working as an editor of a Polish cultural journal Czas Kultury [Time of Culture].

Die Veranstaltung ist hochschulöffentlich und findet im Seminarraum der Bibliothek, Neuwerk 7 statt.
Gäste sind willkommen!